NEW-YORKISMS.

NEW YORK, August 4, 1860.

From Our Own Correspondent.

The Chinese Ginnt, Chang, has arrived—that's what's the matter. That is the news of the hour. He is trying to find accommodations for himself. None of the hotels will take him, and his agent has been brought to the verge of desperation in trying to effect a satisfactory contract with him and a private boarding-house keeper. He is twenty-five years old, and nearly nine feet high, speaks English with an interesting celestial twist to ie sentences, and his talk is as tall as his person. He is soon to be exhibited at Wood's Museum, and is having a drama written expressly for him by Augustin Daly. Although material for two or three good-sized men might be sliced off him, he is only married enough for one, and the extent of his family is by no means in proportion to that of his fame. Chang comes of a long-linked family. His elder sister, who is married to a mandarin, lives in as much seclusion as she can, for she is slowly towering on to ten feet, and her height breaks through every shelter used to conceal it They say the "growing pains" she had when a child were agony, she grew to that extent. Like Mr. Finny's turnip, which obtained poetical celebrity, 'she grew and she grew, but she ne'er did any harm.' If Augustin Daly (who now has his hands full of the Fifth avenue) does not get that play done in time, there is some talk of reviving The Fair Maidwith the Golden Locks, in order to give Chang the opportunity of appearing in the same part in which, some years ago, Behin, the Belgian giant, was so prodigious.

The Tailors of Gotham have given up making pants for the nonce, an taken to making picnics. They demand higher rates of wages, and for making that demand have been treated with infinite contempt by the "bosses." Yesterday, therefore, they abandoned business entirely-those of them, at least, belonging to the "Working Tailors' Protective and Benevolent Union," and mustered in very full force at Jones Woods. Even conceding that it takes nine tailors to make a man, the representatives at Jones' Woods yesterday must have numbered several thousands Nothing happened to mar the occasion. Your festive tailor is not a spoil-sport. The only "sports' he spoils are the untutored young gentlemen to whom, as a result of the tremulousness engendered by strikes, he sends home ill-fitting suits. It is said that several houses will to-day accede to their demands. Yesterday no less than two hundred custom tailors stood guard at the different manufacturing shops, and used every persuasion to induce the hands to join them. But it is neither the journeyman nor the clothier who suffers most by these strikes. It is the middle and upper classes of people who are obliged to pay the difference in price. Some of these strikers demanded an increase of one hundred per cent. The clothing houses have had more workmen than they cared to employ, and when the subject is regarded in those lamps, the demand seems somewhat excessive.

The Demolition of the Buildings adjoining Stewart's retail store, Broadway and Ninth street, commenced yesterday morning, and it is computed that within four months the completed iron building will cover the entire block. It will be a magnificent monument to the genius and the mean ness of money-making.

Detectives have been making very elaborate explorations among the many out-of-the-way, obscure rooms with which Nassau street and the Bowery are honeycombed They are on the lookout for counterfeiters, a nest of whom are believed to have ensconced themselves somewhere in the neighborhood of the park.

has returned to this city, and intends living in quietude and seclusion in Washington Square, studying English, and appearing at intervals in English tragedy before select audiences of critics and personal friends. She has stupendous ambition and perseverpnce. These are expressed alike in her indomitable forehead and progressive chin. When she makes her mind up to do anything, it means something. The resolution once taken, she sets to work immediately. That is Fanny Janauschek. Her present ambition is to be the first actress upon the stage. Her private rep Macbeth," in the spring, before she sailed for Europe, gave a promise that, by arduous effort, she would be able almost entirely to throw off the accent which has spoiled so many Teutonic triumphs, and rendered nugatory the best ambitions of thicktongued Germans.

"That" Sen-serpent, which has struck such terror to the souls of bathing gamins along the wharves and piers of New York, is again spoken of. Indeed, one of the suburbs here has just organized a company for its capture. The Board of Health is energetically pushing on the work of extermination among the underground tenements. About two thousand tenement-house inhabitants have already been routed out and forced to find homes elsewhere. The commissioners engaged in the task meet with more opposition from landlords than from the tenement occupants themselves. These depart, no one knows where. Some turn their attention to tramping, and through the glens, and groves, and highways, and by-ways of Europe pursue a calling which comes natural to them. Others augment the hordes of thieves, burglars, and kidnappers who, during the summer months, swarm around police courts like files around molasses kegs. A few mount one step higher in the grade of social life, and by dint of parder industry and more mouth-pinching manage to stand the increased expense. That every one of these subterranean tenements was a pest-hole is beyond a doubt, and by clearing them out the abused Boord of Health has saved itself from an odium it could not well afford to incur. THE THIRD PARTY.

Convention of Temperance Men to Nominate Candidates for the City Offices.

This morning, at 10 o'clock, the convention, con-sisting of three delegates elected from each ward, called to nominate temperance candidates for the city and county offices to be filled at the ensuing October election, met in Concert Hall. There were about a score of delegates present and a dozen auditors. In the large hall they looked like sparse sheep in a wide field. A few minutes after 10 o'clock, I. Newton Pierce

Mr. George H. Hicks was elected temporary Chairman and Alexander Cutler temporary Secretary.

Mr. Alexander Sloan opened the proceedings with prryer.

Mr. Hicks theu said that good men of both political parties, dissatisfied with the nominees put for-ward by the late conventions, were anxious for an opportunity of voting for unexceptionable candi-dates. They want a separate and distinct ticket, to have upon it good, honest, and sober men, instead of bad, unreliable, drunken men, To meet their desires, a preliminary meeting was held and the matter of the expediency of calling a concention was discussed. A committee was appointed with power to call a convention to be composed of delegates from the different wards, to nominate a ticket in which integrity and worth shall be the standard value. The time has come for this move-ment, and I hope that it is not far distant for a State movement, when a convention shall be called for the nomination of a ticket, and the organization of a State temperance political party. (Applause.) The temperance people have been depending on the existing parties for many years, and have been told to wait. They have waited until patience has ceased to be a virtue. If the political parties will not act, those in favor of the temperance cause must rely ipon themselves.

Returning his thanks, then, to the convention for selecting him as its temporary Chairman, and hoping that its business would be despatched with harmony, and that no attempt would be made to turn it into a rabble like other conventions, and that a formidable ticket would be chosen, the speaker resumed his

The Committee on Platform and Resolutions then reported as follows:

Whereas, it is the legitimate province of government to render its citizens secure in the exercise of their rights and the enjoyment of their orivileges; and as every great principle or reform must of necessity be first advocated by some party; and when existing parties neglect to recognize it, then it becomes the imperative duty of intelligent citizens to organize a new party for the purpose of securing that reform which seems necessary for the public good; and gent citizens to organize a new party for the purpose of securing that reform which seems necessary for the public good; and

Whereas. The appalling increase of the rum traffic in our midst calls loudly upon all friends of morality to use their militence for its overthrow; and as norther of the present political parties have the courage or will be pay any attention to the demand for reform in this respect, but rather yield to the dictates of corrunt combinations, and ancound to their behests by nominating for office those who have for years, it not a life-time, been identified with the liquor traffic, and whose gains and interests are with this prolific source of crime and misery; therefore Revolved, That we, the citizens of Philadelphia, in convention assembled, fealing the responsibility of our position, and the sacrifice necessary to be made in the maintenance of great principles, do solemnly accept the isanc, and unite ourselves into an INDEPENDENT PARTY, based upon Temperance and Moral principles, but upon a platform sufficiently broad to invite and embrace the good and honest men of all parties; to reform the aboses of our municipal government and to nominate men of known virtue, pledged to sustain these principles.

Resolved, That as the dishonesty and corruption, as well as the selfialness and tyranny of partisan leaders, have at length exchied the diaguet and scorn of the vetter classes in noth parties, we repudiate their nominations, and believe that free government can only be maintained and perpetuacie by elevation to office men of honesty, integrity, strict sobriety, and unequivocally in favor of prohibiting the liquor traffic.

Revolved, That freemen should not feel impelled to vote for a candidate whose antecedents are immoral and corrupt, or whose nomination has been wocared by himself or his friends resorting to some dishonest or unfair expedicate.

of his friends resorting to some dishonest or unfair expedient.

Besolved, That we believe the traffic in the manufacture and sale of intoxicating highests is an unmitigated evil, a gigantic source of crime, and the cause of a large portion of our taxes, and should be suppressed by stringent legislation; and that economy and retrenchment in our municipal government, a correction of the present abuses, a better regard for the welfare and interests of the citizens, shall be among our leading principles.

Besolved, That we invite the citizens of Philadelphia to examine the character of the cancidates we present, and consider the principles we proclaim. Are not the former worthy the suffrages of the moral portion of the community? and are not the latter right in the sight of God and worthy the support of every intelligent person?

Besolved, That this party shall be called "The Independent Reform Party."

The report was unanimously adopted.

The report was unanimously adopted.

A motion was made made that a committee of three upon finance be appointed.

FINANCE AND COMMERCE.

OFFICE OF THE EVENING TELEGRAPH, Wednesday, August 4, 1869.

The practical, common sense policy of Secretar; Boutwell in regard to the surplus currency in the Treasury has been a powerful agent in relieving the general money market of the stringency which had so long prevailed, and which operated so injuriously on the interests of trade and commerce. Hence it i on the interests of trade and commerce. Hence it is not to be wondered at that the announcement of a continuance of that course should be halled with general satisfaction. In pursuance of this project, $2,000,000 in bonds will be purchased every Wednesday, in addition to $1,000,000 each alternate Thursday for the purpose of the sinking fund, making in all $10,000,000 for the current month. This course has already produced most benemonth. This course has already produced most bene-ficial results on the market, especially in New York, which receives the lion's share, and a further distribution of ten millions must act in the same direction securing a regular large reduction in the bur den of the public debt. THE NEW YORK MONEY MARKET.

The following extracts show the state of the New York money market yesterday:-

From the Herald. "Some surprise was expressed in Wall street to-"Some surprise was expressed in Wall street today at the apparent discrepancy presented by the comparative statement of the public debt as published in the Herald of this morning and the statement furnished by Secretary Boutwell. The former exhibits an increase of the debt of about eight and one-half millions, while the latter claims a reduction of in the neighborhood of seven and one-half millions. In the case of the Herald the difference was explained as resulting from including the explained as resulting from including the Pacific Railroad bonds in the grand total of indebtedness, which was not done by the Scoretary, while no notice was taken of accrued interest, an item included in Mr. Boutwell's statement. It will thus be seen that both statements were correct, but only partial exhibits of the actual financial rosition of the nation. It is manifestly proper that bot only partial exhibits of the actual financial rosition of the nation. It is manifestly proper that the Pacific Railroad bonds, for which the Government in the character of indorser is directly liable, while being also responsible for the payment of interest thereon, should be included in the sum of our official obligations. We may never be called upon to liquidate them, and we sincerely trust we will not; but as long as they obtain circulation upon the strength of the Government's guarantee and until such time as the ability of the road to meet them at maturity is demonstrated beyond all questhen at maturity is demonstrated beyond all ques-tion of doubt, it is a piece of childlish deceit for us to put them aside when calculating the extent of our liabilities. It is also just that the accrued interest on all bonds not yet paid should enter into a state-ment of the public debt, as it constitutes a very important lien or the balance of coin and currency on hand.

"Gold opened at 185%, and exhibited a strong, steady tone in the market most of the day, advanc-ing steadily through the intermediate fractions to 136%, the highest point reached, and at which it closed in the room. The advance from the opening figure to 135% was slow in a dull, quiet market, but he further upward movement was sharper and ac companied by some excitement, in consequence of the reported failure of a prominent Greek house doing business in Hanover square, a branch of a London house, which has likewise another branch in Rio-Janeiro. It was stated that the Rio branch had become involved in gold speculations there, which produced the suspension, and that the house was 'short' between $800,000 and $900,000 gold. The ad-vance in the premium was referred to the covering of this account although a remove fintended beave of this account, although a rumor of intended heavy shipments to me frow was circulated simultaneously with the other report, which may have aided in the upward turn. The house referred to above has stood high on the street for many years, and was one whose bills were readily taken. After the adjournment of the board the market reacted from the higher figure, and fell off to 135%, fluctuating between that and 126 until near the close of business, when it receded to 1.5%, at which it stood at five

No. 721 Chesnut street. THE CONDITIONS OF HEALTH.-It is idle to expect health if the precantions necessary to secure it are neglected. The human organization is a delicate piece of mechanism, and requires as much intelligent care and watchfulness to keep it in order, as are requisite in the management of the most complicated combination of levers, wheels, and pinions.

At this season of the year the body is peculiarly sensitive, secause it is greatly weakened and relaxed by the continuous heat. The skin, in summer, with its millions of pores wide open, is a very different sort of tegument from the compact fibrous covering which it becomes under the action of the winter's cold. The muscles, too, are comparatively flaccid, the nerves tremulous, the blood poor, and the whole frame less capable of enduring fatigue and resisting disease than in cool weather. These indications of a depressed condition of the vital forces are so many un-mistakable hints that nature needs reinforcing.

Ordinary stimulants will not effect this object. They aflame and excite, but do not strengthen. The only preparation which can be depended upon to impart staminal vigor to the system, and enable it to endure the ordeal of he heated term without giving way under the pressure, is HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, a tonic and corrective so pure, so harmless, so atterly free from the drawbacks which render many of the powerful astringents employed in medical practice more dangerous than the ailments they are employed to cure, that it may be administered without fear to the feeblest female invalid or the most delicate child. The cathartic and alterative vegetable ingredients, which are combined with those of a tonic nature in its composition, keep the bowels moderately free and perfeetly regular while the work of invigoration is going on. The finest blood depurents which the herbal kingdom affords are also among its components, so that it recruits, purifies, and regulates the system simultaneously.

Internal Revenue Matters in Virginia.

Dr. Presbury, Supervisor of Virginia and West Virginia, is here in consultation with the Internal Revenue Bureau relative to matters in his district He reports a remarkable improvement in the moral of the service, and a large increase in the collec-tions. In the Third (or Richmond) district there was paid as taxes on tobase o for five months from March 1 last $726,293, being an excess over the same period in 1868 of $634,588—the tax being now 32 cents per pound, as against 40 cents last year. There was shipped in bond to other districts from Richmond, during the same period this year, 4.414,617 pounds of manufactured tobacco, an excess of 912,312 pounds more than was supplied in the same months of last year. In the Second (or Petersburg) district the increased collection from tobacco for the same period is nearly $350,000. In the Fifth or (Lynchburg) district the increase will such fully $300,000. The district, the increase will and fully $200,000. The revenue from tobacco in these three districts this year for five months, to August 1, is $1,184,588 in excess of the same period last year, while the ship-ments in bond are increased this year two and a half million pounds over last. This large increase in the taxes collected is the result of a more thorough compliance with and enforcement of the law, and fully de-monstrates the superiority of the stamp system for the collection of tax upon tobacco, snut, and cigars

The Spurious $10 Greenbacks

New developments are being made daily concerning the new spurious ten dollar greenback, specimens of which come to the United States Treasurer's office every day. When the first series was received

Gen. Spinner, on examination, came to the conclusion that they had been put out as a blind for future operations. Although very skilfully executed, they presented so many defects that an experienced person could detect them readily; thus the public were noti-fied of dots opposite the figures "Ten," on each end of the note; the lack of distinct rows of figures in the left wing of the eagle; she want of a period after the letter "E." in Spinner's name, and various other omissions. Two specimens received to-day bear witness that they are a new issue, for all the defects above referred to have been removed, and the gene-ral appearance of the note so exactly like the genuine that it almost defies detection by professions
